Mr. John A. Walker, the Winner.

The committee appointed by Mr. J. W. Wix to examine the answers to the rebuts which he recently advertised, after a careful and painstaking examination, have found that Mr. John A. Walker, of Chester, R. F. D. 2, won the prize of $100.00. The only correct answer out of the whole number. Several came within one or two words of the right answer but one would not know them out. The correct answer was: "The Jullia & Kokegan company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, manufacture in their specialty factory, umbrellas, but women's shoes. 'J' & 'K' shoes are known around the world for beauty of style, excellent fitting quality, honesty of material and construction. Try a pair and see for yourself."

WAS ONLY SEEKING A WIFE.

Alleged "Geyman" Only Trying to Break into Some Woman's Heart.

Yesterday morning Sheriff Colvin received a telephone message from Mr. Amos Grant in the Armory neighborhood that a tramp was up there and he seemed to be something more than a tramp. He had been begging in the neighborhood and was trying to get into the Armory. Sheriff Dye, with their accustomed promptness, were soon on the scene. The stranger had made for the woods and tried to get away from the officers, attempting the usual method of wiggling loose from them. But he was overpowered and brought to the city and lodged in jail.

He is a German, about 5 feet 8 inches high, weighs about 140 pounds, complexion which has been thoroughly tanned, black hair and speaks English brokenly. He has a very inefficient look.

In the jail yesterday evening he answered questions readily and said that he came to this country from Germany about four years ago. That he had been working all over the country and was now in the Florida to Virginia when caught. The sack which he carried resembled very closely a government sack, but proved not to be one. He had a dip of various papers, maps and circulars from a matrimonial agency.

In reply to a question the fellow, who by the way said that his name was Frederick Lemons, said that he was finding a wife and he was tired of begging about and had decided to marry some good American girl. He pointed out the picture of the one he had selected.

The fellow is still in jail and will probably have to answer to a charge of larceny.

In Union Sabbath evening, April 4th 1909, Miss Letha Gregory of Inman S. C. and Mr. R. Jeff Wilson, of this city, were married by Rev. L. L. Wagon at his home on Church street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson came over that night and went to Lowryville in the afternoon on a short visit to his mother, Mrs. Joe Wilson. Mr. Wilson has a positive as the Wylie Mill and he and his bride have gone to housekeeping in the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jenkins.

Judge Mackey Dead.

Judge Thomas J. Mackey, veteran of three wars, died last night in a hospital in Washington, D. C., in poverty. He was a familiar figure in the city in his reputation days. He fought in the Mexican, Seminole and Civil war, being a member of the Confederate army. At the close of the war he joined the republican party and in 1872 was elected judge of the sixth circuit of which Chester was a member. He moved to this city and took up his residence and remained here until the expiration of his term of office in 1882 when he was succeeded by Judge Witherspoon, of Yorkville.

Judge Mackey fought the robbers and rascals in the radical party and yet was not altogether acceptable to the democrats of the state.

However in 1878 he exposed the case of Wade Hampton and helped materially to his election and the carrying of the state for the white people.

For his service here he was rewarded by the democratic legislature as judge of the sixth circuit in 1878 and continued to reside in Chester. He left here in the fall of 1883 for Washington and has ever since lived there. He never saved his money and died in poverty. In his last moments his thoughts turned back to the Mexican war and the Palmetto state. His death removes one more of the famous or infamous men of the dark, stormy days of reconstruction.

Surprise All Around.

Wednesday night as County Treasurer S. E. Wylie was opening a bill in his house his gaze fell upon a man standing within the shadow of the house and close to the wall. Mr. Wylie made for his gun but the fellow must have seen him for he made out down Columbia street at a lively gait and by the time Mr. Wylie got back with his gun the man was out of range.

Mr. Wylie had reached home something after ten o'clock from his office where it had been at work when it above happened. Traces of the man were begun and it is believed that he has been located and will be arrested. One of the other neighbor's house on that same street that night had the door bell rung and a man inquired for Dr. McConnell. He was informed that it was and whether that is the man going astray, having honestly lost the way, or whether it was a fellow with evil intent is not known.

The city election will be held on the 1st Tuesday in May which will be the 4th of that month.

Rock Hill, April 8th.—The meeting of the representatives of the S. C. Carolina State League was held in Rock Hill Wednesday night and was an announcement. Our Chester and Rock Hill were on hand and nothing was done. Chester and Rock Hill both had their forfeit money on hand and were ready to go into the league. The meeting was held open until after the night train came in in the hope that some of the delegates from the other towns might turn up but they never appeared.

Mr. Giles L. Wilson, State Bank Examiner, was in the city Wednesday making his annual examinations of the local banks.
